Never Bid Against A Deadline That Already Moved

SAM.gov only ever shows the latest version of a federal notice. When an agency moves a deadline or replaces the documents, the old version disappears — and bidders working from it find out too late. RFPRound snapshots every solicitation it tracks, every day, and diffs the snapshots, so changes become alerts instead of surprises.

What It Does

Matching that explains itself. Your profile is your NAICS codes, set-aside certifications, and places of performance. Every match carries its reason in plain English, plus a 0–100 Match Score from your Matchmaking Rubric.

Amendment alerts. Deadline moves, description changes, and replaced documents on opportunities you saved or match — flagged the day the watch sees them.

A pursuit pipeline, not a pile of links. Watching, Reviewing, Bid, No-Bid, Submitted, Won, Lost — with bid decisions, workflows, and a full audit trail.

Post-award, covered. Submission confirmation, award records, reporting schedules and reminders, closeout, and debriefs — on the same record.

The Round-Up, weekly. The deadlines closing first, the amendments that changed them, and the new notices worth a look, in one email.
